

Journal of International Trade Law and Policy

The following paper presented in the SAIELN's Third Biennial Conference were published in JITLP Special Issue: Food (in)security and international trade law and policy:

Journal of International Trade Law and Policy is a peer-reviewed interdisciplinary journal with a focus on the nexus of international economic policy and international economic law.

Guest editorial: Food (in)security and international law

Leila Choukroune, James J. Nedumpara

Food security and trade: public stockholding through the lens of economics and law

Krishna Bhattacharya, Mahima Ahuja

Promoting food security through public stockholding – Indian perspective and challenges at the WTO

Ahamed Ashiq Shajahan

Women, food security and the pandemic in peri-urban and rural West Bengal

Rajeshwari Dasgupta

Unilateral economic sanctions and food security

Ronjini Ray, Jamshed Ahmad Siddiqui

A regime complex for food assistance: international law regulating international food assistance

Clarisse Delaville

The impact of climate change on the right to access to food within the East African Community

Violla Nabawanda